Committee Awaits Reply Of C.P.R. on Vital Ferry Problem

G. T. German, secretary of the committee struck by representatives of six different public organizations of the Saanich Peninsula, has written to Wm. Manson, of Vancouver, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, inviting the views of the transportation company on the proposed ferry service linking Sidney, the Gulf Islands and Vancouver.

No reply has yet been received from Mr. Manson.
Mr. German's letter follows:

Sidney, B.C.,
July 26, 1950.
Wm. Manson, Esq.,
Vice-President Canadian Pacific Railway,
Vancouver, B.C.
Dear Sir:

You probably are aware that the matter of steamship services between Vancouver, The Gulf Is-

MORE RAIN AND SUNSHINE

The weather during July was warm and sunny, with precipitation half an inch above average, reports the Meteorological office of the Dominion Experimental Station at Saanichton.

The mean temperature of 61.9 degrees was half a degree lower than the 37-year average. The 21st, with a temperature of 80 degrees, was the warmest July day since the 20th in 1946, when 82 degrees was recorded. The minimum temperature was 50 degrees and the lowest on the grass 43 degrees.

There were 334 hours of sunshine during the month which is 14 hours more than the long time average. July 1, with 15 hours of sunshine, was the sunniest day of the year.

The rainfall amounted to 1.26 inches, which was recorded in 5 days. The 27th with .70 inches of rain was the wettest July day since 1933 when .76 inches fell on the 1st. July, 1932, was the wettest on record at the station—2.86 inches fell in 12 days, the 10th with 1.23 inches was a record for 24 hours. The average precipitation for July is .70 inches.

YACHT RACE SATURDAY

Annual predicted log race, sponsored by the Capital City Yacht Club, of Canoe Cove, will link the Peninsula with the American Gulf Islands on Saturday. The race will commence from Canoe Cove and finish at Friday Harbor, on San Juan Island. The course is 31 miles long and the deadline has been set at 3 p.m. daylight time.

It is expected that here will be about 50 competitors. The slower vessels will leave Canoe Cove at 9.30 a.m. and speedier craft will depart later.

Entries already received cover vessels from the Pacific Northwest, on both sides of the line. First prize will be a silver tray. Various other prizes will be awarded, mostly boat equipment. The trophy prize is a mounted goat's head.

"JIMMIE" GARDINER IS VISITOR AT BRENTWOOD

Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture, with Mrs. Gardiner, Miss Beth Gardiner and Miss Bradford, were visitors this week at the Brentwood home of Mrs. Jean Combe and Miss Ruby Donald, Beach Drive. Hon. Mr. Gardiner and his party left Ottawa early in July by motor for Fairbanks, Alaska, and are now on their return to eastern Canada.

UNORTHODOX VESSEL

LINKS MAYNE ISLAND AND SIDNEY

Lack of adequate ferry service between Sidney and the Gulf Islands was reflected in an unusual visitor to the North Saanich seaport on Monday. Marvin Hanson, of Mayne Island, was not content to sit back and deplore the lack of shipping around the Gulf Islands. The Mayne Island logger set to and built his own ferry.

Consisting of a 14-foot boat with an inboard engine mounted aloft, it is both novel and efficient. The motor is carried on a home-made mounting straddling the bow of the boat. Instead of the customary screw a propeller is driven by the 12-h.p. engine and the boat almost flies. Although the maximum speed is not high the system is better in many ways than the screw-driven boat. There is no noise in the water to scare off the fish and the boat leaves almost no wake.

When The Review interviewed Mr. Hanson he was on his way into Victoria. He delayed his departure for a sufficient time to demonstrate the performance of his craft. The demonstration aroused much interest among the many tourists whose yachts were tied up at the wharf.

Having arrived in two hours and a half from Mayne Island, Mr. Hanson removed the motor from his boat and tucked it under his arm. He then proceeded on his way to Victoria by bus.

Appointed

Arnold Moran, well-known Sidney ship builder, has received the appointment of Dominion government marine surveyor for Vancouver Island ports.

This appointment will fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of H. A. Barnett, of Victoria.

Mr. Moran is very well known in Pacific Coast shipping circles, having served as plant superintendent of Armstrong Brothers shipyard in Victoria and as plant manager of Falconer Marine Industries, Ltd., in Victoria. During the war years the Falconer plant received orders for the construction of the largest number of small boats of any shipyard in the Dominion of Canada. Some 560 boats were constructed before the end of hostilities.

For the past four years Mr. Moran has operated his own plant in partnership with Wm. Russell. The shipyard, located at Shoal Harbor, is known as Sidney Marina.

Mr. Moran plans to open an office in Sidney for the convenience of patrons.

Plenty of Opportunity Exists In Canada Today, Liverpool Man Declares

No one can convince C. D. J. Anderson, formerly of Liverpool, that there is not an abundance of opportunities on Vancouver Island for those who are willing to work.

The Lancashire man was born 34 years ago. He took up the trade of shipyard worker on the Mersey and joined the territorial army in 1934. He married on October 10, 1939, and shortly afterwards was mobilized. His was the usual military story—to the continent, back again from Dunkirk, further training and then a fight from Belgium, France to Germany. He served with the 1st Airborne Division. The soldier is proud of his long service medal with bar.

A Dancer
On demobilization, Mr. Anderson resumed his trade on the Mersey. But by the time 1950 rolled around his family consisted of his wife and four children: Shirley, 10 years; Dennis, 7; Jacqueline, 5; and Gordon, 2. Shirley showed outstanding promise as a dancer and already boasts a number of certificates to prove her ability.

The father wasn't satisfied with conditions in Britain despite its Socialist government. He had never visited Canada but became convinced that his children would have greater opportunities in this land. His uncle, Mr. Whittle, formerly an employee of L. H. Nicholson in Sidney, and now a gardener at the Kellogg estate on Salt Spring Island, assured him he wouldn't starve to death on Vancouver Island.

So on April 23, 1950, Mr. Anderson came to Canada as an advance party of one. He could bring no money but he was willing to work. He got a job in the shipyard of Sidney Marina and has put in long hours there. By the middle of July he'd saved up the $850 necessary to pay the passage of his family to Canada. They sail from Liverpool on the Samaria on August 3 and will land in Quebec about the 12th. Mr. Anderson expects to meet them in Vancouver on the 17th.

A Home, Too
And that's not all. He'll have a home to bring his wife and children to, as well. He's renovating and enlarging a home he's acquired on Swartz Bay Road.

Mr. Anderson likes it here and feels that he's made a good move. And no one can convince him that there's not plenty of opportunity on Vancouver Island for anyone who's willing to roll up his sleeves and go to work.

FREAK ACCIDENT, GANGES WHARF

Last Saturday afternoon, July 29, Eric, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Best, was the victim of a freak accident at Ganges wharf. While he and his parents and grandparents were waiting on the wharf for a car, the child idly rolled an empty oil drum which was lying on its side. He fell through a hole in the rotting plank 15 feet into the sea, narrowly missing a cross beam in his fall. The boy's father, on crutches because of a recent severe injury to his leg, dived under the wharf and supported the child in the water until picked up by Charles Lumley, who came immediately to the rescue in his boat.

AGED SIDNEY MAN PASSES

Tom Willdey, aged resident of Sidney, passed away on Wednesday, July 26. He was 91 years of age and had lived in Sidney for the past 35 years. For many years he was a familiar figure in North Saanich, before ill-health restricted his activities. He was a patient in Rest Haven hospital for a prolonged period prior to entering a nursing home in Victoria.

He is survived by his brother, Baron Willdey, of Brandon, Man.; two nephews, Tom and Stephen Wallis, Sidney, and numerous other nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were held in Thompson Funeral Home, Victoria, on Saturday, July 29. Major C. H. Millie officiated. Cremation followed.

TO DISCUSS FIRE DEPARTMENT

Preliminary meeting was held in the Orange Hall at Saanichton on Monday, July 31, to discuss the formation of a volunteer fire department in the former Ward six area in the event of a fire being granted.

Percy Thorp, chairman of the Saanich Chamber of Commerce was in the chair. No specific plans were laid. The meeting appointed a committee to look into the matter and a general meeting will be held in Brentwood as soon as an announcement is made regarding the secession issue.

HEAVY PORT TRAFFIC

Tourist traffic through Sidney port during the month of July maintained a good average in view of the reduced ferry service. There were 2,097 cars and 7,151 passengers arriving at Sidney. The figures for departures were slightly higher, 2,351 cars and 7,750 passengers left by the North Saanich port during last month.

DEATH CLAIMS PIONEER LADY OF SALT SPRING

Notable pioneer of Salt Spring Island, Mrs. Emma Clarke Scott, passed away, at Ganges, on Saturday, July 29. Mrs. Scott was a native of Victoria and had resided on the island for 57 years. She was 84 years of age.

She was the widow of William E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture in the provincial government from 1909 until 1918. He predeceased his wife in 1934.

CARELESSNESS CAUSES FIRE

Carelessness on the part of some person who lighted a fire on the beach during Monday, July 31, was the cause of an alarm on that same day. Sidney Volunteer Fire Department was called out to Camp Glen on the West Saanich Road, near the Adamson property. A fire had been left and had gone out of control. It was well above high-water mark and several trees and stumps were in the flames. The fire was extinguished without incident.

Crowds Watch Major-General Pearkes Open Faucet For First Time

HERALDED as the most progressive step taken on the Saanich Peninsula for some time, official opening of the new pipe line system of Brentwood Waterworks District was attended by scores of enthusiastic residents of the district on Friday evening of last week. The ceremonies, directed by V. C. Dawson, chairman of the board of trustees, were conducted in the Women's Institute Hall.

It was a thrilling moment for many residents of the area who had suffered for years from inadequate water supplies from wells.

Major-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., in whose constituency Brentwood lies, was given the honor of releasing the first water from a pipe. It flowed into a container in the hall but so great was the water pressure that the General had to call for assistance to close the faucet and prevent flooding of the premises. The water was formally drunk by Mr. Dawson.

History of District

History of the $90,000 project was outlined by Mr. Dawson. The Saanich Chamber of Commerce had named a committee to study the feasibility of the system. It had received intermittent support from the district generally until early in 1949 when a plebiscite cleared the way for progress. The water district had been formed, debentures sold and the pipe line laid in a very short time.

Water is secured from the department of transport at Elk Lake. It is pumped, filtered and treated by the department of transport and distributed through the district's own line. A 100,000-gallon tank has been erected on the E. M. Maber Ridge, assuring ample pressure throughout the system.

Considerable amusement was caused by the burning of a discarded comfort station near the hall. The Saanich fire department, under the direction of Chief Joseph Law, responded promptly, tied into the new fire hydrant, and extinguished the blaze. It was emphasized that the fire protection of Brentwood is greatly enhanced by the new water system.

Congratulatory Messages

Present at the ceremonies were many residents who had assisted in the development of the water system, including: Reeve Joseph Casey and Councillors Sydney

Pickles, F. Green, Les Passmore and W. C. Kersey of Saanich Municipality; A. J. R. Ash, M.L.A. for Saanich; Hugh Brockington, of Vancouver, the district's engineer; Keith Robinson of the department of transport; Capt. Nat Gray, of Saanichton; Major S. S. Penny, the district's solicitor; R. F. Hassen of Pemberton and Sons who had handled the debenture sale; H. D. Dawson, Saanich engineer; Percy Thorp, president of the Saanich Chamber of Commerce; Mr. Watts of the provincial department of health; Alderman Bamfield, of Victoria, chairman of the Victoria water committee; Cyril Jones, Victoria city engineer and former master of Brentwood College; and many others. Short messages of congratulations were voiced by many of the visitors.

Regrets at the inability of Premier Byron Johnson to attend were read at the ceremonies. Garner Brothers, of Duncan, who laid the pipelines, were represented at the assembly.

Members of the board of trustees of the district are: V. C. Dawson, Maurice Atkins, Lorne Thomson, Capt. D. H. McKay and G. V. Williams. H. D. Patterson, of Brentwood, is secretary of the board.

Following the ceremonies refreshments were served to the visitors by members of the Brentwood Women's Institute.

LIFE PROCEEDS AS USUAL TODAY IN BUSY CITY OF HONG KONG

Next door to the theatre of war in the Far East, residents of Hong Kong pursue their normal routines with little thought to the possibility of the extension of hostilities to their own territory. The island is in constant touch with the progress of the war but as yet the contact is entirely impersonal.

Mrs. Murdo Campbell has arrived in Sidney at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Fomerl. She is now awaiting her husband's arrival. Mr. Campbell is still in the Oriental city, where he is engaged as a marine engineer. The traveller commented that there is no suggestion of panic or war hysteria to be found in Hong Kong. Repairs and renovations to buildings destroyed or looted in the Japanese occupation still go ahead, as also does construction of new homes and other work.

Reports are constantly arriving in that city of conditions on the mainland. Mrs. Campbell explained that, in the areas taken over by the Communist forces, foreign businesses are permitted to continue their activities. Furthermore, they are not permitted to close. Any factory or organization is compelled to continue and employees have to be kept on the payrolls whether or not there is work for them. It is a difficult task to obtain an exit permit from those areas in the hands of the Chinese.

The Chinese are not fighters said Mrs. Campbell. They look on military service as domineering. The policy of the Reds is to enforce such service and all people of military age are drafted into the army. In the case of the Nationalists there is no such compulsion. Many Chinese have looked to Hong Kong as a refuge from the army.

Resignation

There is an atmosphere of resignation in Hong Kong to the inevitable surrender to the Chinese. The majority of whites in that city accept the loss of Hong Kong as a thing of the future. The whole progress of the Far East points to the departure of the whites. No resident will assess the probable date of this occurrence and each man suggests that it will come about when his leave is due. This calm resignation to

NATIVE OF SAN JUAN

RECALLS HER CHILDHOOD THERE

The Review is pleased to publish another story this week on the early days of San Juan Island. Some of the history of this island, which today is part of the U.S.A., was outlined in a recent story by J. H. Hamilton, of Sidney.

The author of this week's article is Mrs. Winnie Lautman, of Salt Spring Island. Her father, the late Mr. Lighthouse, travelled from Michigan around 1890 and took up a homestead, near Mitchell's Bay, a few miles down the shoreline from English Camp on San Juan Island. Mrs. Lautman was one born there.

Her earliest recollections are of Roche Harbor at a thriving company town. A large lime kiln (for those days) was located there. Friday Harbor, on the other side of the island, was also a thriving little town which supplied the needs of the early settlers.

Mrs. Lautman remembers her father leaving in the fall and winter months, before daylight, to drive a team and democrat to Friday Harbor for supplies. He made this trip about once a month at that time of the year. Farming, fishing, logging, the lime kilns (there was another called Cowell's Lime Works between Roche Harbor and Friday Harbor) comprised the main industries of Mrs. Lautman's day there.

Considering the short span of years between the time of the settling of the international dispute between the two countries, San Juan Island advanced very quickly in those early days," Mrs. Lautman told The Review. "We even had a high school, drug store, livery stable, several stores, millinery shop, ice cream parlor and a bank. This was all prior to 1913 when I left the island."

Her story follows:

ENGLISH CAMP

(By Winnie Lautman, Ganges, B.C.)

Reading the article by J. H. Hamilton, of Sidney, in a recent issue of The Review, turned my thoughts back to my childhood on San Juan Island and I would like to add a few thoughts to his story which may be of interest to readers.

Two years ago this June, I had occasion to visit friends and relatives. (Continued on Page Three)

Plans for a lending library in the church vestry were discussed, and it is hoped that a rack containing pamphlets from the Catholic Truth Society will be placed in the church porch in the near future.

The next meeting will be on August 29 at the home of Mrs. Eyckermans, Third Street, when new members will be welcomed.

Miss Georgina Seebach, Third Street, returned Friday after spending ten days at the Sunshine camp at Sooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Littlejohn, of Sussex, England, are guests of the former's uncle, George Littlejohn, Fifth Street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Laidlaw, East Saanich Road, are holidaying up-Island for two weeks.

Friends will be glad to learn that G. A. Cochran, Second Street, is much improved in health, and is expected home from Jubilee

LOOKING AHEAD with WILLIAM C. JAMES

Women as the buyers of the nation have a highly developed sense of values. Years of bargain hunting have conditioned them so they can see through gaudy wrappings to the essential value of the product. That is why much of the increased income being earned by women in business nowadays is set aside to purchase annuities, endowments, and other forms of life insurance protection. With business women generally retiring at an earlier age than men, their need for such protection is very great and has resulted in the number of women owning life insurance policies today being twice the pre-war figure. The average policy, too, is for a considerably larger amount. Why not talk your policy over with me today?

REBUILD WAR DAMAGED BUSINESS CENTRES

Provincial cities and towns in Britain are to be allocated $12-000,000 next year for rebuilding bombed areas. This will be spent almost entirely for reconstructing business centres devastated by air raids.

Survey Of Phone Areas Completed

Detailed field survey has been made of the Albion, Belmont and Colquitz areas by the B.C. Telephone Company. The survey was launched to obtain exact information as to the growth that has taken place in these areas and the probable demand for service.

This announcement was made by the company in reply to an enquiry from Arthur J. R. Ash, M.L.A. for Saanich. Mr. Ash had written to the vice-president of the company, James Hamilton, asking for definite figures as to when an improvement in service could be expected. Mr. Hamilton continued that the company awaits the final decision of the Board of Transport Commissioners regarding the recent request for a rate increase.

Mr. Hamilton also explained in his letter that an estimated expenditure of $440,000 is proposed for the buildings and automatic equipment on these exchanges.

The conversion of the Sidney and Keating exchanges has been tentatively set for 1951.

BRITISH JEWELLERY EXPORTS ALMOST DOUBLED

During the first four months of this year, exports of jewellery from Britain were almost double those for the same period of last year. A survey just issued on British overseas trade shows that they rose by 82 per cent. This was the largest increase in shipments of any manufactured goods.

New British Wonder Engine for Cycles

Known as the "Cyclemaster", the engine is incorporated in a motorized wheel which can be fitted in 20 minutes to any average size bicycle. The two-stroke engine, the wheel and the two-and-a-half-pint petrol tank which fits neatly round the hub together weigh only 20 pounds more than the average cycle wheel. The "Cycle-master" is claimed to be the first of its kind to drive by chain. This chain transmits to the clutch and then to the wheel. Most cycle motors drive one of the wheels by a friction roller working on the tire. This picture shows the "Cyclemaster" fitted to an ordinary cycle.

MORE ABOUT SAN JUAN

tives on San Juan, my birthplace.
We drove by car to English Camp,
as we have always known it.
This is the place where the English marines and soldiers stationed at the time of the dispute over American-British boundaries as mentioned in Mr. Hamilton's article.

The property is now owned by Mrs. Davis and her brother, James Crooks. Their father was a member of the English forces at English Camp. He homesteaded the property after the conclusion of the English occupation.

The old "block house" as it was and is still termed, still remains to this day.

It has had a new roof and a few minor repairs but for the most part is the same as the British forces left it nearly a century ago. The walls are of hand-hewn logs, white-washed inside and out. In the walls are various peep holes, I presume for shooting from. It is built close to the shore line. English Camp is located at Garrison Bay between Roche Harbor on San Juan Island and Mitchell Bay.

Above the "block house" a little way on a rise of land is the old blacksmith shop, beyond, at one side, is the old barracks.
These buildings are in a bad state of repair. In fact you could nearly describe them as remains only.

Farther over we followed a winding gently rising road to a little flat plateau with a small rock bluff behind and above it.
This was the site of the British commanding officer's home which burned to the ground. I believe during the latter part of the occupation. Mrs. Davis has a photo of it which was handed down from her father, Mr. Crooks.

On this plateau today is a monument erected there to commemorate the treaty arbitrated by Kaiser Wilhelm I. of Germany, in 1872. I was a small child at the time but I remember the celebration held there when it was unveiled. My memories are of crowds of people; bands playing, soldiers and sailors of both countries parading and standing at attention while several men spoke to the crowd from the top of the little rock bluff.

Soldiers' Graves
Further up among the trees are the graves of the soldiers who from one cause or another died during the occupation.

Mrs. Davis has also the roll of the American soldiers who occupied American camp on the other side of San Juan Island. While rendering the names of the various American soldiers I came across the name of M. Gyves, father of the present Michael Gyves, who resides on Salt Spring Island with his family. The senior Mr. Gyves came to Salt Spring Island in the early days after his period of service was over and settled in what Salt Spring Islanders call the Burgoyne Valley on the southern part of the island. In speaking of Mr. Gyves I have strayed somewhat from my topic. However, I thought it may be of interest to the Salt Spring readers and early pioneers who took part in the recent reunion at Ganges.

Returning to English Camp, I will try to describe the place further, as it impressed me that bright June day.

Looking up from the beach by the "block house" is a lovely old orchard growing where the old parade ground used to be. I visualized the soldiers drilling there and the orchard as it must have looked those days.

Mrs. Davis' husband, Capt. Herbert Davis, built, several years ago, a lovely home. The old original home her father built when he took the place as a homestead is pretty well gone. It was hard to picture this peaceful old homestead with the orchard sweeping up from the quiet bay as the scene of a military encampment nearly 100 years ago.

The "block house" is the only evidence to be seen from this point of vantage.

Mrs. Davis and her brother plan to turn the property over to the American government to be used as a historical park for the benefit of the public.

She would like to obtain a roll of the British soldiers who served there. If any reader knows how or where this information may be obtained, would he or she please write me care of The Review office.

Hundreds of people visit English Camp each year and many renew old acquaintances and former school friends. En route they will visit Niagara Falls and on their return Yellowstone National Park. Accompanying them are Mrs. A. Nelson, Victoria; Mrs. E.

M. Harrison, Calif., and Mrs. E.
Gait, Elk Lake.

In honor of their son Jimmy's seventh birthday, Mrs. and Mr.
Paul Bell, Mount Newton Cross Road, entertained Sunday afternoon at a delightful birthday party. Games and contests were played in the garden, after which a sit-down supper was served in the dining room from a daintily decorated table centred with an attractively designed birthday cake in three colors. Guests were Elaine Edgell, Janet and Jackie

MUSICAL NOTES CONTROL SHIPS

A ship which will automatically obey orders sent to it by music was demonstrated off the south coast of Britain recently. The vessel is a motor launch 68 feet long which will be used by the R.A.F. as a target at sea. It is the first radio-controlled boat of this kind ever produced. It is guided by musical notes of varying pitch sent to it from a control ship. Each portion of the launch's mechanism responds to one particular note which it picks up and obeys—eight different orders can be given in this way.

A SUCCESS STORY

TRUSTEES of the Brentwood Water District have written a story of success despite many problems and difficulties which could well be taken as an object lesson for many other organizations. Their scores of hours of hard work and careful planning were vindicated on Friday evening last when Major-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., twisted the nozzle of a hose and released water from the new system. It was a thrilling moment for those who had toiled so long to put their home community in a position where it can develop and expand. The future of Brentwood today is limitless.

The Brentwood district, because of its outstanding setting on a peaceful and protected arm of the sea, was one of the earliest settled sections of southern Vancouver Island. Its lovely vista and inviting slopes lured settlers from great distances. Its development was not of the mushroom type but steady and permanent. One great disadvantage always stood in its way—lack of an adequate water supply.

Fertile fields which should have been green the year around, were parched and brown in the summer. Domestic wells simply could not produce enough water for the full use of Brentwood's gardens and farms. And too often officials of the provincial department of health had to condemn water supplies as "unfit for human consumption." No community could progress as it should under such conditions.

Vision and hard work was all that was necessary to overcome this problem. And the success story of Brentwood is a feather in the cap of the Saanich Chamber of Commerce. That wide-awake organization provided the leadership that ultimately bore fruit. Various committees were formed which led to the organization of the Brentwood Water District. The public was not immediately convinced on the wisdom of the planned development. Some plebiscites on the question did not receive the necessary majorities. But in the end sufficient property owners agreed to permit the scheme to be advanced and last Friday's ceremonies proved beyond a shadow of a doubt the wisdom of their view.

An abundance of good pure water is now available to the Brentwood area. The Review forecasts unprecedented progress for that thriving seaside community.

Other parts of Saanich Peninsula could take a leaf from Brentwood's book. The Deep Cove area overnight could blossom into a beautiful summertime green instead of today's parched brown. All that is needed is leadership which would refuse to be discouraged by the problems which would have to be overcome before water in abundance would flow from faucets all through the district.

HISTORY books inform us that the long, narrow strip of land which rises steeply from the Strait of Georgia and which is today known as Galiano Island, was first discovered by Spanish adventurers. These daring sailors were the first white men to set foot on her beaches. They named this beautiful island.

So it's immediately apparent that Galiano is a settlement with a long and interesting history. She was peopled by settlers with vision. They have developed her fertile fields and rugged cliffs to the best of their ability and the island today stands on the verge of rapid progress if her transportation facilities can be improved and a ferry link forged with the mainland and Vancouver Island.

The people of Galiano Island a week or so ago displayed a community spirit which was outstanding. They declared an island holiday and invited the head of their government to come over and celebrate with them. Business was suspended and a carnival spirit reigned.

They are proud of their accomplishments and that's only natural. They showed their Premier that they aren't leaving all progress and development to their elected representatives. There's too much of that spirit in the world today. They needed electricity so they rolled up their sleeves and built their own plant. And it's doing a good, efficient job, too.

Galiano residents were convinced that development of their island will continue long after present-day citizens are dead and gone. And they were anxious to leave as great a heritage as possible for posterity. So they set aside a 320-acre tract of land, high above turbulent Active Pass, as a public park. Naturally they're proud of this foresight and they took great pride in showing this accomplishment to their Premier.

Too many of us today are handicapping our lives and our futures by turning all our problems over to governments—municipal, provincial and federal. Divine aid for those who help themselves is just as much assured today as it ever was.

There's much to be learned from the example set by the Galiano Islanders.

... Letters To The Editor ...

JUNIOR BASEBALL

Editor, Review,

Sir:

"Small Fry at Bat" is the heading of an excellent story in the August number of Reader's Digest. It tells about the great success attending the little leagues formed in the United States for budding baseball players in the age group 8 to 12 years. The crowds have been thrilled by an amazing amount of baseball and the article points out so well, an amazing brand of sportsmanship.

In this little league the bases are placed 60 feet apart instead of the regulation 90 feet and the pitcher's mound 40 feet four inches from the plate instead of the regular 60 feet six inches. Real sportsmanship is seen in the story of the little catcher (age 12) of one team. When an opposing player got a home run, the catcher of the other team whipped off his mask and shook hands with the successful batter as he crossed home plate. That is the spirit, I feel sure, that we wish to see inculcated in our young athletes of Sidney and North Saanich.

During this summer many of our citizens have had much pleasure in watching the games of ball played between our own Legionnaires, sponsored by Saanich Peninsula, branch 37, of Canadian Legion. Carefully coached and trained by Mr. Bryon Forster, who has been assisted by other public spirited former players, boys up to 18 years of age have secured good experience in the Victoria Minor Baseball Association. But we want to go further. It may be just a dream but we have been thinking of a more strictly local little league of boys from 8 to 12 years. Can we get enough boys in this age group to form three or four teams to play locally? Boys need not be from one particular district or school but effort should be made to divide up the best talent so that no one team becomes overpoweringly strong to over shadow the others.

The Review's Book Review

"HALF CASTE", by Eric Baume. Falcon Press per British Book Service, Toronto. $2.25.

This is the simple story of a veteran who finds difficulty in settling down after the Second World War. Peter Wade, a Scotsman, visits New Zealand on an extended holiday, while attempting to accustom himself to the world at peace. After an incident where he confuses his hostess with another lady in a theatre box he meets Ngaire Trevithick. In due course he becomes enamored of her.

The lady is half English and half Maori. The significance of her mixed blood is somewhat over emphasized. The author describes a series of incidents in the life of the girl which make her more than normally sensitive of her origins. Good to look at and ostensibly white, she is faced with a problem. Should she inform her prospective fiancé of her blood?

The customs and life of the Maoris are described in detail and the author leaves the impression that the onus of the problem rests more heavily on the whites than on the Maoris. The different white characters all show an unfortunate disregard for their own culture and morals, while deploring the association with the Maoris. The book also suggests the existence of an extensive snobbishness among the whites.

The characters are better described when the book deals with the minor members of the community. Dr. Sembach, a Swiss who has been around the Maoris for many years, is painted with greater detail than the chief characters of the story.

The book is written with an emphasis on the general attitude towards the half caste. Eric Baume, prominent in newspaper and literary circles, down under, suggests that in the course of time all colored people in that part of the world will be absorbed into the white population. In this book he deplores the attitude that would ostracize them in the elementary stages of this inevitable development.

Half Caste is basically a romance. The treatment of this problem of color gives it an appeal that it would not otherwise possess. It is also a tragedy.—F.C.R.

The whole idea would be, as the descriptive caption in the Reader's Digest article, has it: "These pint-sized ball players are having the time of their lives—and so are their parents."

So let us have nominations from parents of, and boys who want to learn how to play baseball—want to have coaching and training and learn to take the umpire's decisions with a smile even when they feel that last one was a "ball" and not a "strike".

WILLIAM C. JAMES, Secretary-Treasurer, Sports Committee, Canadian Legion, Branch 37, Sidney, July 31, 1950.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Editor, Review,

May I express my thanks for the excellent article, written by you, which appeared in last week's Review, describing the embroidered cloth sent to us as a mark of appreciation by Mrs. J. Jennings of Reading, England, for the aid rendered her adopted daughter by the Sidney branch of "Save the Children Fund."

Surely there must be other groups of neighbors, friends, school or church organizations around North Saanich and the Islands who could do as our former Red Cross group of ten has done, "adopt" a child.

Italy and Greece are in dire need of child aid but children in almost any part of the war-torn world are eligible.

The cost is small—$50 per year per child—which may be paid into "Save the Children Fund" yearly, $25 each six months, or $5 a month. Our group sends boxes of food and clothing several times a year, but this is optional.

We all feel more than grateful for our small effort by the grateful letters received from our three children or their parents. Adoptions are just for one year and may be discontinued at any time. It is also possible to contribute towards the fund by joining "Save the Children Association" at $1 a year. Funds or enquiries may be sent to me or direct to Mrs. L. M. Dryden, 6520 Labourer St., Vancouver, B.C., who is honorary secretary-treasurer of the fund for British Columbia.

Please lend these unhappy children a helping hand.

Sincerely,

MARY T. DRAY, District representative, "Save the Children Fund", Sidney and North Saanich, Edgewater, Sidney, B.C., August 1, 1950.

YOUTHFUL OFFENDERS

Editor, Review,

There are several boys and a girl who seem to have found a way of obtaining fruit — which they cannot afford to buy — all of their own.

They may have taken the idea from the custom of Halloween, begging, but their method is to come knocking at people's doors, after sizing up their fruit trees, and saying: "Please may we have some cherries" or apples or plums as the case may be—almost in the manner of demanding something which is theirs by right, or else a person might feel like giving them some.

It would seem that they have discovered that many people will give them a little fruit as a bribe to keep them from helping themselves and damaging the fruit trees—last year these same boys and girl, ranging from 9 to 11 or

UN Flag at Armed Forces Headquarters in Tokyo

General Douglas MacArthur (right), commander of the armed forces acting in behalf of the United Nations to restore the peace in Korea, shakes hands with Chief of Staff of the United States Army, General J. Lawton Collins, after receiving the blue-and-white U.N. flag (center) which once flew over the headquarters of the U.N. Mediator in Palestine. The flag was sent to General MacArthur by U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie, who expressed hope that it would fly until peace is restored in Korea. General Lawton Collins brought it to Tokyo.

He Trusted The Common Man

(Ottawa Citizen)

The burial of a great leader is an occasion that stirs the hearts of men. Today is such a day. Ottawa's activity is muted. The attention of the nation turns upon the solemn obsequies for Mackenzie King, whose name now belongs to history and to Canadians who live in the coasts by the sea, in the mining towns and on the farms, in the hamlets, towns and cities across the land. Never in our generation has the death of a Canadian filled so many of his fellow countrymen with a sense of personal loss. Never has there been such spontaneous evidence that the spirit of the Canadian people has been deeply touched.

In the darkness Monday, the bier was moved into the Hall of Fame of the Canadian Parliament, within the walls where Mackenzie King had been a dominating figure for a quarter of a century, a director of Canada's destiny.

So sleeps the pride of former days. So glories the thrill is over. And hearts that once beat high for praise

Now feel that pulse no more!

For long hours an unending line of sad-faced men and women filed past the mahogany casket, looking for the last time upon the face many of them remembered vividly in life. It was notable that many parents had brought their children to be present at a great and solemn moment of Canada's history. It was a silent line, stretching far out on the pathway through the greensward of Parliament Square. Poor men and rich men, humble citizens and great—they were equals on this sad occasion.

What attribute of Mackenzie King caused his parting to stir such deep emotions? It was something more than his deep love for his fellowmen. Throughout a long political life, he was wont to say the people could always be trusted to come to the right decisions. This abiding trust he had in the wisdom of the common man probably more than anything else touched a responsive chord in the hearts of the Canadian people and in return they trusted him. Trust begets affection.

Chromium Or Beefsteak

(Montreal Star)

The anxiety with which the automobile industry on this continent is apparently watching the invasion of the British-made machine might easily swell to downright alarm if marketing methods of the latter as reported from Pinfield, N.H., become more general. Some bright salesman there had the idea of putting five of a popular make of British car in the low-price category in one of those huge shop-market places where it was entirely surrounded by vegetables and fruit. The story goes that the five cars were all sold then and there, the first time they were offered.

Why shouldn't they, when the salesman had the bright inspiration to figure out their cost in terms of weight, and discovered that you could buy one of those quite excellent little cars at the rate of 72 cents a pound, or substantially less than you would pay for a pound of beef and no

12 years old, were caught helping themselves in several different gardens, snatching unprompted fruit—having climbed the trees without going through the formula of knocking at the door.

It would seem that their education as to the rights of private property has been sadly neglected, but perhaps if those approached would remind them that there is such a thing and that there are policemen to uphold such rights it may nip a phase of mischief in the bud. The people from serious trouble later on.

To an intended victim, they offered to come back when the cherries were ripe until the policeman was mentioned, and wanted to know when the plums would be ready.

Massive Cathedral In Spain

Not much has been published outside of Spain—or within that country either about the massive $21,000,000 cathedral General Franco is secretly building in the heart of the Guadarrama mountains. Charles Foley, of the London Express has just returned to London with an account of the amazing structure. His report is reprinted in the Roman Catholic publication, the Canadian Register, and gives some interesting details of what Mr. Foley thinks will be a sacred edifice "that will endure not for centuries but for millenniums."

In the construction of the cathedral, and the tremendous illuminated cross that will surmount it, thousands of men with pick and dynamite have been tunnelling and quarrying in the face of the mountain for 10 years. They fought their way through from one end of the crest to the other. The mountain has been hollowed out. Below, the split-out rock was crushed and built again to form a great imperial stairway down the valley.

Over the mountains, reaching from peak to peak, a pilgrim's way, "all in wide shelving stairs," is being built. A great new building and white, with cloisters and colonnades, is to be a monastery to house 50 priests and 200 visitors from every continent.

The main axis is described as a mighty tunnel nearly 800 feet long said to be the longest nave in Christendom. The overall length of St. Peter's basilica in Rome is about 700 feet. In the centre of the cruciform design a cupola soars upward with a gallery around it. Along the aisles are 16 chapels cut in the rock. Behind the high altar is a circular staircase of 250 steps cut in the rock. An elevator will go to the pinnacle of the crest, 450 feet above the floor of the cathedral.

Now this great project constitutes a "forbidden city" protected from public intrusion by armed guards and blocked roads. But when completed, the lighted cross, three times the height of Nelson's monument in London, and built on a platform 4,500 feet above sea level, will shine across the whole centre of Spain. "Thus is being created in Franco's domain what Mr. Foley terms 'an architectural miracle, the eighth wonder of the world.'"

Reflections From the Past

20 YEARS AGO

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Altar Society of St. Elizabeth's church, Sidney, a very enjoyable picnic was held last week on a beautiful little beach on Salt Spring Island. The party, numbering about 60, left by boats from Sidney and Deep Cove and a most pleasant day of bathing and games was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Margison and their two sons of Toronto are visiting Salt Spring Island. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ruckle, Beaver Point.

Glorious summer weather prevailed on Saturday afternoon when, through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jeffery, thousands of guests visited their home at the Dominion Experimental Station to attend the annual garden party of the Eastern Star, Ruth Chapter, No. 22. The grounds were arranged in a most picturesque style, causing many favorable comments from the visitors.

Moran Brethour is driving the delivery truck of the Sidney "Fruit Co., Ltd." during the absence of J. Thornley, who is on his summer vacation.

Miss Violet Wright, of California, is a Sidney visitor with her brother, Fred Wright.

Mrs. Whidden, of Milford, N.S., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George Cochran. Also visiting Mrs. Cochran are her sister, Mrs. F. J. Dounie, of Everett, Washington; and her brother, R. Graham Whidden, wife and two children, of Sunny Nook, Alberta.

Jack Borradaile, of Mayne Island, spent the week-end at Ganges, where he was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Borradaile.

Manufacture your goods in Sidney where you get an industrial site for almost a song and taxes are low.

The Galiano Swimming Club met at Mrs. Heryet's Beach and enjoyed bathing. Tea was served. Mrs. Scoones, Mrs. Page and Mrs. Howard assisting Mrs. R. Heryet. A number of visitors were present.

Major Guy Boyer and his son, Ray Boyer, left Brentwood Island last week for a trip to Honolulu.

Miss Ruth Menzies, who has been on the staff of the Brooklyn Public Library for the past year, arrived at Pender Island from New York, via the Panama, on Thursday last.

Latest figures show C. H. Dickie, member-elect for Nanaimo, with approximately 3,807 lead over C. H. O'Halloran, Liberal candidate. Mr. Dickie polled approximately 8,160.

25 YEARS AGO

A slight earthquake shock was felt at Pender on Saturday, August 1, at 23 minutes to 1. Those who noticed it were having lunch when the rattling of dishes, stove pipes, etc., which usually accompanies such occurrences, was heard. The quake, however, lasted only a short time. Several shocks have been reported here within the last month or two, each time by different people. This is a shocking state of affairs.

A very enjoyable time was spent at the Experimental Station on Saturday, August 1, when the Sidney and North Saanich United churches and Sunday school held their annual picnic. There was a large attendance and an excellent sports program was carried out during the afternoon, after which a delightful supper was served, under the supervision of Mrs. Ann Gale, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. McNab and Mrs. Ellis. After supper a cricket match was played between North and South Saanich, in which South Saanich received the honors.

The Bamberton Cement Co. held their annual picnic at Deep Cove on Saturday afternoon. The party of about 500 were conveyed to the Chalet grounds by the company's two large tugboats.

Ranger O'Grady discovered a small fire at Retreat Cove on Tuesday evening. Finlay Murcheson, line warden, assisted by C. T. and Stanley Page, Mr. Ritchie and B. McCoshie (on whose property part of the fire was), and others have put in a busy week. At present it is almost out but is being watched night and day.

A very enjoyable cricket match took place on Saturday last on the Pomby House school cricket grounds, Ganges. The sides were captained by V. Cose Morris and A. K. W. Oxenham. Fielding and catching on both sides was good and Lowther and Hoole enlivened proceedings by some good, hard hitting.

Everett Goddard of the Sidney-Deep Cove Stage, has planned a special Sunday afternoon tour.

Mr. Churchill Enjoys Himself (Montreal Star)

Mr. Churchill's ceaseless campaign to maintain the English language in its classic form broke out in the midst of his speech last month on the Schuman Plan. He remarked:

"In this debate we have had the usual jargon about the infrastructure of a supra-national authority. The original authority is obscure. It may well be that these words infra and supra have been introduced into our current political parlance by the hand of intellectual highbrows who are naturally anxious to impress the public by a movement with the fact that they learned Latin at Winchester. No one would wish to deny this old-school-the continental in class self-consciousness."

It was not long upon his audience that the lesson to which Sir Stafford Cripps owes his affection is Winchester.

GREAT BRITAIN'S HOUSING PROGRESS Referring to the progress of Britain's housing program, Aneurin Bevan, minister of health, said recently that Britain since 1945, had built more houses than the rest of Europe put together.

leaving Sidney at two o'clock, and going via Victoria over the Malahat and home over the Mill Bay Ferry to Brentwood and thence back to Sidney, arriving at 5.30 p.m.

A very successful dance was held in the pavilion at the Chalet Hotel on Saturday evening. Over 150 guests danced enthusiastically to the splendid music supplied by Heaton's orchestra of Victoria. Real moonlight dancing was indulged in, the affair being continued until midnight.

N. Fralick has been appointed caretaker of the Sidney schools. Miss Mary Field, niece of V. G. Field, manager of the Sidney branch of the Merchants' Bank, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Field this week, returning to her home in Vancouver yesterday.

George Steven, of South Salt Spring, who has been away in California for the past five months, arrived home on Sunday. He says there is no place like B.C.

It is reported that Miss Hitchcock and Miss Smith have purchased the Sidney property of J. B. Reading.

General Gwynne, C.M.G., has purchased the "Ardmore" property and has taken up his residence there.

On Monday afternoon last the final judging of the senior children's gardens was completed, A. MacDonald being the judge, assisted by Mrs. B. Deacon, president of the North Saanich Women's Institute, under whose auspices the competition was held.

After a great deal of careful consideration, the prizes were awarded as follows: 1. Ruby Lophwin; 2. Robert Anderson; 3. Nancy ed at follows: 1. Ruby Lophwin; 2. Robert Anderson; 3. Nancy

Among those which were not quite good enough for a prize, but showed good growth and careful attention, were cultivated by Lizette Watts, Bertie Ward and Raymond Brethour.

H. Payne and his son, of Saturna Island went to Victoria last week on board their yacht, "Kid", in order to have her overhauled. They have returned and are about to set out on a short cruise.

Mr. North, of the Saturna camp of North and Brennan, has been away at Sidney this past week, collecting hay and feed to bring up to the camp for his teams.

The firm of McDonald, Watson and Withers have secured the contract for towing a boom of piles from Cushion Cove to the Victoria Machinery Depot.

The engagement is announced of Peter Georges, second son of Mr. and Mrs. James George, of East Point Lighthouse, to Elenor, eldest daughter of John Aitken, of Mayne Island.

No Poultry Show At P.N.E. This Year

Pacific National Exhibition directors have announced, with regret, cancellations of plans for the annual Poultry Show in connection with this year's P.N.E.

Continued danger from Newcastle disease is responsible for the cancellation which was recommended by the P.N.E. poultry committee headed by Thomas Somerville. The ban affects chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese, bantams, pigeons, and other poultry.

Exhibition officials point out that the cage birds shows, for canaries, budgerigars and other birds of that type will be held as usual as well as the annual rabbit show.

Mobile Newspaper Office

The new mobile newspaper office of the "Birmingham Post and Mail," operating in the English Midlands, appears at first sight to be a luxury coach but is disclosed as a strictly utilitarian vehicle carrying a linotype machine, a photographic dark room, a Bush late news printing machine, and two generators, one providing the current for the printing machine and the other the electricity for the radio, teleprinter machines and the wireless transmission for photographs. Apart from its merit as an important link in newspaper production which permits the printing and publishing of late news, the vehicle has many outstanding features of engineering and design. One of the many innovations is the use of fluorescent tubes to provide lighting. This picture shows the mobile newspaper office at a recent agricultural show in the Midlands.

The Wise Gardener

Notes From Saanichton Experimental Station

Most berries can be used successfully after having been stored in a deep freeze locker, but all berries do not lend themselves equally well to this processing. The boysenberry is one of the best of the brambles and should not be overlooked when stocking the locker. Huge quantities of these berries are used in this way in Oregon and along the Pacific coast. The Himalaya blackberry is another excellent berry for freezing and comes from the locker with the same high quality with which it entered.

Care should be taken in preparing material for the locker. Although freezing will preserve the good qualities of fresh fruit and vegetables it does not improve their poor qualities. To have the best possible products for later enjoyment only those fruits harvested at the peak of the season, when the crop is at its best, should be used for freezer storage.

The use of oils for killing weeds in carrots is standard practice, but unfortunately there are relatively few vegetables in this group which will tolerate having the spray directed over the foliage. An idea which is worth trying, however, is to protect foliage of susceptible plants and direct the oil spray between the rows. This might be done with long 12-inch boards which are set up against the rows of plants and lashed together by a couple of cross strips. The head of the sprayer should be kept sufficiently low so that the spray will have no chance of hitting the vegetable foliage. Low pressure and a relatively coarse spray will also help to reduce the danger. Stove oil should be satisfactory for this purpose, and is cheaper than the Stoddards solvent used in weeding carrots. The oil is particularly effective in bright, warm weather and will give excellent control of most weeds.

to improved flower and corn production. The tests which are being repeated again this year are showing that a similar stimulation from water will result. In 1949, for instance, the number of grade one flower spikes from the irrigated plot was 346 per cent greater than that of the non-irrigated plots; number of saleable flower spikes was increased by 114 per cent; the number of florets per spike by 4 per cent; the size of the florets by 5 per cent; the length of the first grade flower spikes by 16 per cent, and the total crop of corns and cornels by 60 per cent. These increases were the result of five sprinklings, or a total of 4.42 acre inches of water.

Woodhues... Tigress... Aphrodesia... their identities? As if the names themselves didn't breathe their own sweet fragrance from the mere print. They are the three scents in the new perfume and toilet water being featured in Sidney now. You'll recognize the Woodhues cologne flagon by its cap of finely grained wood. Tigress is topped, naturally, with tigress skin and Aphrodesia has its own translucent cap of shadowy blue—$1.50 or $2.50 will buy this scent appeal for you. The $3 perfume pencil is sheer magic. Just remove the gold cap and gently draw the tip over the skin. I felt like all the movie queens in cinema-land after the liberal demonstration received uppon. Really superb scents—cool fragrance and sweet pleasure.

You may like to investigate the new spray deodorants while in the store. Probably like myself, you've read about them and figured they were too good to be true. But take it from Susan, for 75c for the brand in the blue or $1.25 for the one in clear plastic you can have your meticulous protection by just a squeeze of the jar. You see, the containers themselves are squeezable—no muss—no fuss. Ideal for travelling, they last and last. Hundreds of sprays per bottle.

How They Did Eat
Had a gala time witnessing the wieners roasting given by the good ladies for the Sidney Junior Band. Eat! My land, how those kids did

Heads Committee

GENERAL MANN

Maj.-Gen. C. Churchill Mann, C.B.E., D.S.O., who retired in June, 1949, as vice-chief of general staff, Canadian Army, will head the national Disaster Services committee of the Canadian Red Cross as volunteer chairman. It was announced this week. General Mann, of Todmorden, Ont., who prepared the plan for civil defense for Toronto and York, will direct the greatly expanding activities of this Red Cross service, made necessary by the increasing number of disasters in Canada, such as the Noronic, Manitoba floods and Rimouski and Cabano fires.

eat, bless them. Had a whale of a time and along with their genial leader they deserved every bit of it right mightily. The dog roast took place at a well-built barbecue and horn honkers of all sizes speared the pups and held them over the coals. Seemed as if the littlest kids had the biggest loads on their sticks. But they gobbled up every scrap with relish (and with mustard).

I enjoyed watching the "washing-down" process. The ladies had made two great pans full of soft drinks by using the 5c packages which have been so popular this season. They just added

THE REVIEW'S MARKET LETTER

(Supplied by H. A. Humber Ltd.)

Stocks eased from the best in the final trading but a number of special issues were strong, some at new highs. U.S. leather, alcohol and sugar stocks were in demand at higher prices.

Leading motors and steels were showing a strong undertone with General Motors well up, but all these were off from the best in the last 15 minutes.

Traders were evening up in the last trading before the long week-end. Some of the chemicals were strong including Mathison New and American Cyanamid.

sugar, ice cubes and ladles and the kids did the rest.

Remember the wee-est member of the band? The little blonde fellow who led them in the parade? No bigger than a minute and as cute as they come, though it may be some years before Daddy hands him an instrument to play. Anyway the little fellow lost no time in testing the drink concoction. Became fascinated by the ladle and filling his cup was a game until the elders stepped in and ruled that his capacity had been reached.

But the rest of the band drank heartily and pronounced the brew excellent. One 5c package makes 1 1/2 or 2 quarts. For one cup use 3/4 teaspoon of the granules, and sugar to taste. One lady I know throws in 1/4 teaspoon of baking soda. Gives it just that extra oomph to make it a really refreshing drink.

Have you picked up your two cans of cleanser yet and sent their labels away for the little copper-bottomed fry pan? It's small but handy and incidentally the cleanser is good.

Heard about a really superior paint in town these days. Betty did her bedroom floor in ivory, then stippled it generously with green. After a varnish finish, you'd swear she had a new linoleum rug.

And speaking of paint, in closing, let me give you a good second-hand hint on how to remove green paint from white tennis shorts. Just use a bottle of turpentine, a very stiff brush and a pair of scissors!

A temper is an asset—so long as we lose it only intentionally.

Appointed

WALTER S. WOODS

Walter S. Woods, until this month deputy-minister of Veterans' Affairs, has been appointed first national chairman of Red Cross veterans' services, it was announced this week.

As a volunteer Mr. Woods will head a new committee which combines all Red Cross veterans' work under its jurisdiction. arts and crafts, hospital visiting, hospital libraries, soldiers' clubs, welfare, lodges, entertainment and film service.

Mr. Woods brings to the post a thorough knowledge of veterans' needs. Himself a veteran of World War I, he came to Ottawa in 1930 as superintendent of soldier settlement for southern Alberta to sit on a special committee to consider veterans' legislation. When the War Veterans' Allowance Act was enacted at that time, he was elected chairman of the board, a position he maintained until being appointed to the pensions department in 1941. He served as deputy-minister of Veterans' Affairs from 1944 until his present retirement.

He received the order of C.M.G. for his service, and in 1947 the honorary degree of LL.D. was conferred upon him by the University of British Columbia in recognition of his untiring interest in veterans at the university level.

MORE ABOUT HONG KONG

the end does not discourage them from carrying on in the normal routine of life.

Mrs. Campbell was in Hong Kong for 18 months. It was by no means here first visit to the east. During the Second World War she was interned in Shanghai. Nursing in that city when the Japanese came in, she was among the many who were interned in an army camp. Mrs. Campbell recalls, with a smile, the day she was interned. The Japanese officer in charge had been educated in the United States and spoke English fluently. "You are here for your own safety," he told the internees, "we shall look after you and we hope you will be happy here. If you attempt to escape, you will be shot." Mrs. Campbell did not attempt to escape. After a year she was among the internees to be released under an exchange plan.

The Sidney lady lost all her furnishings and property during the Japanese occupation. In 1947 she regained possession of two boxes which she had stored in a Swiss "godown" in 1942. A godown is a warehouse.

When Mr. Campbell arrives the travellers hope to settle in Canada. After having circled the globe several times Mrs. Campbell wants to find a permanent home.

North Saanich Ousted In Softball Playoffs

North Saanich faded out of the lower island women's softball championship picture on Sunday when they dropped a double-header to Red's Service.

First game of the best-of-five series ended in a tie, with the Service girls taking the second by a 7-1 score. Sunday's fixtures saw Red's Service down the Peninsula squad 12-1 and 14-3.

Agnes Pearson pitched the first game for North Saanich and was called on to relieve Margaret Newton after three innings in the second.

To Picnic or Not to Picnic

(Ottawa Journal)

There is no middle course about picnics—you just adore them, or you think them about the lowest form of human activity aimed at amusement or recreation.

A picnic-addict has a gleam in her eye (more often than not the female of the species are the instigators of such projects) as she tells you how wonderful it is to have lunch in the shade of a maple grove or on the kindly bank of a river or lake, to get out of the dining room rut and back to nature. In such an environment, she declares, and grows almost poetic over it, a peanut butter sandwich and a hard-boiled egg, washed down with tepid ginger ale, becomes food fit for the gods, and if nobody has sat on the pumpkin pie, and the pickles haven't been left behind in the refrigerator there's the added touch of sheer luxury which makes the occasion memorable. Who but an old curmudgeon, she says, would deny little children such delights? What adult could fail to relax and find contentment while he revelled in the joys of potato salad and lukewarm watermelon?

It's a pretty picture but, says the old curmudgeon, it's completely phoney. He says he was lured to a picnic the other day and he knows about picnics. Everybody set out full of happy anticipations, with no particular destination—they were to stop and eat in some lovely nook off the highway. The car was packed with humanity and baskets of food as they left their cool house and took to the warmth of the roads. They turned off the pavement seeking that unspoiled spot, but when they came to any suitable picnic ground they found two or a dozen or 50 cars there ahead of them. They drove on and on, seeking beauty with privacy, while the children grew volubly hungry, and eventually stopped beside a lonely wayside tree which gave inadequate and shifting shade.

There they unpacked their baskets and sat on the ground, while they ate a lunch which hadn't been improved by some hours in a hot car. The ants came, and the flies, and a lean dog ambled over from a neighboring farm to look into prospects. Then the journey home on crowded roads at ten miles per hour, the children hot and tired, the adults cross and saying devoutly never again.

So there are two aspects of the picnic question. We are taking no sides, because some of our best friends are addicts and we wouldn't for the world hurt their feelings, but if we were backed into a corner we would have to admit a strong case can be made out for spending a summer week-end where almost nobody else ever thinks of spending one—at home, with a shower bath handy, and cold things in the refrigerator.

GANGES COMMUNITY HONORS DR. AND MRS. G. W. MEYER ON LEAVING

Harbor House, Ganges, was the scene of a farewell party given in honor of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Meyer, who are shortly leaving the island, the doctor having recently sold his house and practice to Dr. D. A. Boyes and Dr. J. G. Ankenman, of Vancouver.

Over 140 guests attended during the afternoon, and a lawn was served on one of the lawns of the hotel under the convensership of Mrs. Tom Fowler, Mrs. Donald Goodman, Mrs. Clifford Lee, Mrs. Ivan Mout, Mrs. A. E. Elliot assisted by Mrs. Zelen Kropinski, Miss Mary Lees, the matron and nursing staff of the Lady Minto Gulf Islands hospital. The table decorations were carried out with shasta daisies, white scabiosa, salpiglossis and gypsophila.

Lt. Col. Desmond Crofton, in paying a tribute to the doctor said: "The purpose of this gathering today is to say goodbye to Dr. Meyer, who is leaving the island after eight years among us, to thank him for all he has done in the community during that time and to make a presentation. As you know, if anyone was ill or hurt the doctor would present out at all hours of the day or night and in all weathers, his wonderful diagnosis speeding recovery. As a member of the hospital board, and I know the board and staff will miss him keenly, I want to thank him on their behalf and also Mrs. Meyer for her ready help at all times."

Canadian Sports Fishing Grounds Outstanding, Rotarians Are Informed

Members of the Sidney Rotary Club learned about sport fishing in many countries at their dinner meeting on Wednesday, July 26. The speaker was R. R. Whitaker, a visitor in Sidney from Bradford, Yorkshire. He has been an enthusiastic angler for many years and has learned much of the community life in the different countries which he has visited as a fisherman.

Mr. Whitaker spoke intimately of various fishing streams and lakes in England, Scotland, Eire, Norway, Florida and California. He had encountered the usual successes and disappointments common to anglers in all these countries. But he made it clear to his listeners that Canadian waters held the greatest appeal to the sports fisherman.

Likes Canada

The speaker told of enjoying his favorite sport over a period of many years in Newfoundland, New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario, the foothills of Alberta, the interior of British Columbia and the Pacific coast. He found salmon fishing in this district disappointing this season but hoped for greater success in the coho run.

Mr. Whitaker sounded the philosophy of the true fisherman when he explained that the sport can be enjoyed all spring, summer and fall while the winter months are enlivened by the prospects of greater success in the approaching season.

A warm vote of thanks to the visitor was voiced by Norman Greenhill and enthusiastically endorsed.

Wm. C. James, Sidney insurance man, was welcomed as a new member of the club. He was a former Rotarian of Brantford, Ontario.

New Jet Night Fighter for the R.A.F.

Britain recently announced that a new night fighter is to be used by the Royal Air Force. It is the Meteor N.F. 11, now in production. The basic machine was designed by the Gloster Aircraft Co. Ltd. The Meteor N.F. 11 production is being undertaken by Sir W. G. Armstrong Whitworth Aircraft, Ltd. It has two seats, the second being to accommodate the radar operator, and the nose has been modified to house the radar and radio equipment needed to locate an enemy in the dark. The engines are two Rolls-Royce Derwents of unspecified mark and power output. The Meteor N.F. 11 was shown at the Royal Air Force display at Farnborough on July 7 and 8. This picture shows the new night fighter, the Meteor N.F. 11 on the tarmac.

MODERN EDUCATION
* * * * *
WAS DIFFERENT BACK IN 1873
The following is a portion of an article written by A. E. Vogee, of Sidney, as published in the Victoria Daily Times at the time of the official opening of the North Saanich consolidated school on Centre Road, now in the area of the Patricia Bay Airport:
The district's modern educational facilities can be traced back to very simple beginnings when some time shortly before 1873 Colin C. McKenzie, who later became the province's second superintendent of education, was engaged privately to teach the children of the pioneer Anderson family at "Rosebank," now "Mal-lownot."
Shortly after, in the year 1873 on the first Monday in August, the first public school in North Saanich was opened having been organized at the direction of Dr. Jessop, first superintendent of education for British Columbia. This was located on the site of the North Saanich Service Club (now Legion Hall), Mills Road. Its teacher for the first year was Henry Brethour, then residing on the East Saanich Road.
The trustees of this first school were D. McDonald, father of the late Alex McDonald, then M.L.A. for the Islands, which then included North Saanich; Peter Imrie, secretary, and Richard John, who donated the land for the school site. There were less than ten pupils in attendance.
Constructed of rough sawn lumber and whitewashed on the outside, the first school had only one room. With respect to interior furnishings there were long benches and tables instead of desks and seats and a large "box-type" heater in the centre of the room, which was fed with cord-wood. There were no blackboards and few maps or charts of any kind.
As one can readily imagine, the subjects and method of instruction in the pioneer school differed from those of today. The subjects were mainly the three "R's." Most of the work was done orally. Writing was done on slates. When the weather was fine, drawing and geography were held outside where the necessary illustrating was often done on the dust of the road.
In 1879 a new school, known as the Literary Institute, was organized by volunteer effort on a site located on Wain's Cross Road. This school was linked with the North Saanich school by a trail running in a southerly direction through the woods and through that area, now known as "Mead-lands."
Dual Duties
The North Saanich teacher, again Mr. Brethour, taught in both these schools. In the morn-ing school was held at North Saanich and in the afternoon at the Literary Institute. Different

IN BOAT RACE
Arnold Moran, of Sidney, served as a member of the crew on the "Ysidro," yacht of H. Hen-shall, which took part in the yacht race last week-end from Everett, Washington, to Cadboro Bay. Mr. Moran was much im-pressed with the hospitality ex-tended to the Canadian visitors by their American hosts in Ever-ett.
MOVIES FOR YELL AND UNST
At last the cinema has reached Yell and Unst—the two most nor-therly points in the United King-dom. Once a fortnight, the 1,805 people who live on Unst, and the 2,129 people on Yell, at the very tip of the Shetlands, can leave their fishing and their stocking-making to go to the pictures. The Highlands and the Islands Film Guild supplied William William-son, Yell's radio manager, with a projector and screen packed in a van in which he tours Yell twice a month. Then a motorboat fer-ries him and his films across the sea to Unst. The largest audience he has had on Yell was 167—on Unst 163.
The aim of education is that of training good members of society. Its art is the art of social life and its end is fitness for the world.
